

LIST SUMMER SESSION COURSES AT EL CAMINO

El Camino College's six-week summer session which starts July 5 will offer courses for the high school graduate, the regular college student, and for adults over 18 whether or not they have graduated from high school, according to H. J. Sheffield, director of student personnel.

There is no tuition charge for the summer session although students are required by law to furnish their own textbooks and supplies.

The summer session with its smaller classes, permits instructors to pay more personal attention to the needs of the individual student. Also, the student, concentrating on one or two subjects instead of several at once, is enabled to expend his time to his own greater advantage, Sheffield said.

The college, fully approved as a veteran training facility, is located at Crenshaw and Redondo Beach boulevards.

Registration for the summer courses has been set for July 5 between 1 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Classes start July 6.

Among the 57 courses which will be offered during the afternoon and evening classes are the following:

HOME-BUILDING BOOMS AT PV MARLOMA TRACT

Home-building activities at Marloma, 33-acre tract on Rancho Palos Verdes, swung into high gear this week as the first home being constructed on the hills above Palos Verdes Drive North neared completion, two new homes were started and financial arrangements were made for the immediate start of three other ranch-type dwellings.

Twenty-one of Marloma's 65 Escrow lots have been sold or are in the surge of building activity resulted from an agreement worked out between John M. Kemper, president of Dapal Homes, Inc., a veterans group sponsoring Marloma, and the Bonded Owner Builder Service. Both veterans and non-veterans wanting to build on the rolling slopes of the Palos Verdes Hills had been delayed by financing and building costs. Through Kemper said, Marloma property owners were able to save from 17 to 22 percent in building costs, and get up to 100 percent financing on the individual homes.

Marloma lots, which overlook the greater Los Angeles area from Santa Monica Bay to Long Beach Harbor, range from one-third to one-quarter acres. Ranch-type homes stressing out door living, panoramic view windows, fireplaces and barbecue facilities are the basic de-
